TRIPLE CELEBRATION.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Beadle of Richmond Hill Commemorate Three Important Events.

A triple celebration was held last night in the auditorium of Temple Forum Atheneum, Richmond Hill, by Mr. and Mrs. William A. Beadle, of 200 Oak street, that place. Two hundred people, relatives and friends of the popular couple, helped celebrate their silver wedding, the recent birth of a grandson, and Mr. Beadle's appointment, a short while ago, as deputy receiver of taxes for Queens.

Mr. and Mrs. Beadle were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Charles Davis and Mrs. W. H. Crookston, of Brooklyn. Palms and early spring flowers were used in profusion in decorating the hall. While there was no set musical programme, an orchestra rendered selections throughout the evening, and dancing followed the conclusion of the supper.

In planning the afair, Mr. and Mrs. Beadle endeavored to make it a home-like, sociable occasion, even though it did not lack a certain amount of formality.

Although Mr. and Mrs. Beadle are widely known in Queens Borough, having lived several years in Richmond Hill, they are also prominent in Brooklyn, where both were born. Mr. Beadle is the son of the late Colonel Harry Beadle, one time commander of the Thirteenth Regiment of Brooklyn. For many years he was a resident of Union street, in that borough, and was active in Brooklyn politics. His wife, who was Miss Florence N. Williamson, was a daughter of the late James G. Williamson, at one time a large wholesale produce dealer.

The couple are active in church and musical circles. Mr. Beadle is organist of the Union Congregational Church of Richmond Hill, a foremost member of the Republican Club there, and is an Ancanumite and a Mason.

Among those present at last night's gathering were:

Mr. and Mrs. Warren B. Ashmead, General David E. Austin, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Arison, Mrs. H. H. Beadle, Harry W. Beadle, Major and Mrs. James A. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Bayne, Mr. and Mrs. S. G.
