SOCIETY and Personal

Bingham school in the next two weeks will be the center of festivities for the younger set. Col. Bingham will give a dance at the club house at Bingham Heights Wednesday, April 7. This dance will be given during the visit of the Mooney baseball game. Then the two clubs are planning each to have a dinner-dance out of town—one will probably be given at "Overlook" and the other club will secure breaks and drive a short distance out of town, have dinner and spend the evening dancing and return home by moonlight.

The Shakespeare club will meet this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Mary Walden Williamson on Merriman avenue. The study of Richard Third will be finished.

The regular Friday evening dance took place last night at the Battery Park hotel. The dancers enjoyed their evening in the Palm room.

Dr. Battle placed his bungalow on the Ridge drive at the disposal of the All Souls' choir Thursday night and they drove up and spent the evening and served a picnic supper, returning to Asheville at eleven o'clock.

The following young people, chaperoned by Mrs. B. M. Marlowe, enjoyed a delightful outing at Riverside park yesterday: Miss Ethel Misenheimer, Miss Myrtle Davis, Misses Georgia and Inez Sorrels, Misses Ethel and Helen Marlowe and Masters Hobart Miller, David Wheels, Carl Schartle, Gerald Cowan, Herman Davis, George Britt, George Shuford, Carrol Martin, Paul Scheussler and Alonzo Delaney.

Eight young ladies from Knoxville will arrive this afternoon with a chaperone, to witness the ball game Monday between the Knoxville High school and Bingham. The young ladies will spend the week-end with relatives and friends in the city and return home Monday night.

A marriage of wide social interest was that of Miss Rachel Christian Trimble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Crawford McChesney Trimble, of Staunton, Va., to Mr. John Mason Lee, jr., Widewater, Stafford county, Va. The wedding took place on the morning of the 20th at the New York avenue Presbyterian church, Washington, Rev. Dr. Wallace Radcliff officiating. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Nance Trimble, as maid of honor, and Mr. Bankhead Lee, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. The ushers were Mr. Marshall King and Mr. Chittendon, both of Alexandria. Mr. Lee is a son of Major John M. Lee, of Stafford, and a nephew of the late General Fitzhugh Lee.

The following were the bowling scores at Albemarle club last night:

LUCULLAN FEAST OF PLANKED FISH

Mrs. Armstrong Shows How Easy it is to Prepare Shad Without Aid of Open Fire.

The audience yesterday who went to Mrs. Armstrong's lecture on cooking, was an interested crowd of women when they listened to all she had to tell them about planked fish. Heretofore cook's have insisted that it took an open wood fire to do this successfully. No one has ever tasted a more delicate or well flavored planked fish than that demonstrated by Mrs. Armstrong yesterday. The plank was of oak, oblong in shape, and about two inches thick. This she placed in the hot oven for ten minutes; then she took it out and oiled it and the fish was placed on the plank and put into the oven for about twenty minutes, and when taken out was beautifully and evenly browned and ready to serve. With this she served panned tomatoes and potatoes that were mashed through a tube and pastry bag and were browned on the same plank with the fish. Like a magician she put together the cheese fondu, which was delicious and thoroughly approved by the palate of those who tasted it. The ginger cookies, too, were good to see and taste. Then Mrs. Armstrong gave some valuable hints about the care of the gas range and announced that she would have more to say on this subject tomorrow.

It was stated in the first announcement of Mrs. Armstrong's coming that the cooks of the households where gas ranges are used were invited. So far they have not taken advantage of this, and the gas company urges their patrons to have the cooks attend this afternoon and hear what Mrs. Armstrong has to say about the economy of gas and care of oven.

The menu for this afternoon is to be broiled steak, potatoes O'Brien, salad dressing, feather cake and Geneva cream..

PRISONERS CAUGHT WITH LIBERTY NEAR

CLYDE MELTON FAILED IN HIS ATTEMPT TO GET AWAY.

Made Break From Calaboose but was Caught at Beuna Vista With Another Fugitive.

Clyde Melton, a young white man, who was recently convicted in the police court for a felony made a temporary escape from the city prison yesterday afternoon, and got as far as Buena Vista where he fell into the hands of the police. Harrison Gibson, who was arrested yesterday afternoon on a charge of larceny, and released upon bond was also picked up at the same place as he was preparing to depart.

Melton was taken down in the basement of the city calaboose yesterday morning by Bishop, the janitor, to do some repair work. While Bishop stepped out of the room, Melton raised a window and jumped to the street below and made his way to the station.

It was reported at the police station that the two had been seen going towards Biltmore. The chief of police and Patrolman Messer jumped in a buggy and started out in pursuit of them. They searched around Biltmore, but could find no trace of them, and Mr. Messer jumped on the Toxaway train and started towards Buena Vista while the chief came on in his buggy. Just as Messer was about to step off the train to make a search around Buena Vista, Melton and Gibson stepped forward to board the train. Both of them were re-arrested, and brought back to Asheville in Mr. Chamber's buggy who arrived from Biltmore a few minutes after the capture was made.

Gibson was placed in jail yesterday morning on a charge of larceny of a sum of money amounting to about $75 or $80 from an old white man named Mack Rice. The latter was drunk when he swore out the warrant to have him arrested and could give few details. Gibson was released on a bond, but it is supposed that he and Melton made up the plan to escape while in prison. Gibson is almost white and is usually found in the company of white men. He is well known to the police.

They were with two other men, and had changed hats in order to effect some kind of disguise when they were captured. Melton on his way to Asheville claimed the other two men were safe crackers.

MR. BURNS LAID TO REST IN RIVERSIDE

The funeral services of the late John M. Burns, manager of the Monger Lumber company, were held at his late residence yesterday morning, the Rev. G. F. Detwiler and Rev. R. F. Campbell, officiating. The services were attended by a large number of friends of the deceased, including many lumbermen living in Asheville and the vicinity. The floral offerings were numerous and handsome. The interment was at Riverside cemetery.
