BEAR AND VENISON FOR THE HOLIDAYS

Three 200-Pound Cubs, Fat, Have Been Received in the Market.

HOLIDAY APPEARANCE .. AT THE MARKET HOUSE

Christmas Turkeys, Small Hams, Suckling Pigs Display of Green Groceries.

The Star market has just received three bears which will be sold for the most part to hotels of the city, for their guests during the Christmas holidays. These were young bears and very fat, and it is rare that such tender, juicy bear meat can be had here. They were killed in the Toxaway mountains and shipped here Saturday, were little more than cubs, weighing 212 pounds dressed, and were running with their mother when killed. The hunter who killed them is now said to be after the old bear. The skins are beautiful and have already been disposed of, as has most of the meat. The Langren hotel takes one, the Battery Park another and the Margo Terrace and Swannanoa-Berkeley most of the third. One who likes this meat will be lucky to get a steak from one of these bears. Three deer were received from the same place and the hotels take most of this meat, too.

Th market house is beginning to take on a holiday appearance. The Christmas turkeys and other poultry are beginning to arrive and are being put on display. The market men for some time have been arranging with the farmers to bring in small hams and suckling pigs. It was stated this morning that the people eat more small hams at Christmas time than anything else. A great many turkeys are sold, of course, as well as loads of other poultry—ducks, geese and chickens. The suckling pig is a very popular meat with those who feel that they can afford it. It costs more than turkey and is not generally kept except on special order. The meat man generally knows for days who will want these pigs, and already nearly the whole Christmas stock is in cold storage. The pigs are about eight weeks old when killed and have never eaten anything but milk. Just before Christmas some of them will be put on display.

A great deal of wild game birds will be eaten. Those who partake of the wild game, however, will mostly have to kill it themselves, on account of the laws prohibiting the sale of such.

The vegetable stalls already are enough to make one's mouth water. It is hard to see how they could be more attractively arranged even on the eve of Christmas. The goods are so placed that they catch the eye at once. The colors are arranged by contrast. The purple egg plant will be seen piled within a row of cabbages or head lettuce. Piles of purple cabbage add an unusual color note. Large cauliflower heads peep up from surrounding leaves. Crimson cranberries shine forth. The orange colored carrots, the green of turnip tops, the drab of Irish potatoes all contribute to the general scheme, aided by the bleached and toothsome celery.

One almost loses account of time in going around the various stalls. It will be hard for the marketers to make choice unless they go to the market knowing exactly what they wish and endeavor to keep their sight on just those things.

Is Made Claim Agent of Southern Railway With Office at Knoxville.

The following taken from the Knoxville Sentinel concerning the promotion in the Southern railway service of Bruce Beatty will be of interest to his friends in Asheville. Mr. Beatty is a brother of Mrs. S. A. Rector, Mrs. W. W. Britt and Miss Grace Beatty of this city:

"Announcement has been made by T. B. Haynes, assistant chief claim agent for the Southern Railway company at this point, of the promotion of Bruce Beatty from the position of baggage master to that of claim agent, his territory extending from Coster to Harriman and Fonde with branches, and from Corryton to Middlesboro and branches, including L. & N. joint trackage.

DESIRABLE POSITION.

Emmett Gudger Promoted, to Be Head of Bureau of Wireless Messages.

Emmett Gudger, son of Congressman J. M. Gudger, jr., who has been in the employ of the United States navy for several years, has been appointed as the head of the bureau of wireless messages, which was recently created by an act of congress to have supervision over the various wireless stations and systems of this country. He enters upon his new duties at once. It is considered as a very desirable position.

The appointment of Mr. Gudger to this position was entirely unexpected by his friends here. During his employment in the navy he had been advanced very rapidly, but while his future in that department was very bright, the position to which he has been appointed is much more responsible.

SUPERIOR COURT.

Disposition Made of Tax Cases—Special Term Began This Morning.

The Superior court, special term, for the trial of criminal cases began its work today and Judge B. F. Long was in the chair again to consider the usual run of charges, among which that of failure to pay taxes stood well in the lead.

The cases heard were as follows:

Laura Blankenship, against whom were four charges of keeping a disorderly house, had the judgment in all the cases continued on a promise of good behavior and payment of costs. The same disposition was made in a case in which she was charged with fornication and adultery, except that the costs were to be paid by Jim Moody, who was also found guilty on the same charge.

George Bailey, colored, charged with larceny, was found guilty and was sentenced to eight months on the county roads.

U. Bryson, charged with failure to pay tax, was sentenced to pay it and fined the costs, the same disposition being made in the cases of J. H. Creasman, Carson Bridges, John Henry Smith, F. P. Hughes and John Owens, on the same charge. Nos pros, was taken in the cases of B. W. Warren, W. M. Arrowood and Brous Wall, on the same charge.

Carl Lewis, charged with retailing, has since died.

Dill Brooks, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, was found guilty, but the judgment was not pronounced.

Capiases were issued for Jacob Horne and Nick Wright as witnesses.
